May 21st	Spindle spinning. In House workshop Brush up your spindle spinning. We'll have spindles from teeny takli's to Huge Navaho spindles for you to try. See what makes a good spindle and match a spindle to a yarn and fibre. Bring along every spindle that you have, and a selection of fibres to spin. (small niddy noddies will also be useful, as well as carders, paper for quills and notes). This should be a fun day, and taking spindle spinning to the summer shows always attracts attention (we'll try and arrange some really basic spinning equipment that you can try with kids.)

Well, here she is - didn't she do well?! Lizzie, speaking to the Duchess of Cornwall about wet felting at the launch of GrandFest! The Duchess of Cornwall is President of the RVS, and Patricia Routledge and Wayne Sleep also attended as Ambassadors.

The actual GrandFest will take place on 5th June in and around the area of Spitalfields Market and Hoxton in East London where shops, cafes and museums are opening their doors for the GrandMakers to host two 45 minute masterclasses of their skills to members of the public looking to learn from them.

Di has a magnificent upright tapestry loom for sale at £400

Tea, coffee and biscuits available, but we ask for a donation in aid of cancer charities. (Please remember – these aren't free!)
